Projects

Project- E-commerce website

- I designed and developed the e-commerce platform from inception to completion as the sole developer.
- Conceptualizing the project and defining its requirements based on industry standards and best practices.
- Designing the architecture and database schema to support the functionality of the platform.
- Integrating Redux Toolkit for efficient state management, including features such as product listings, user authentication, cart functionality, and secure checkout process with payment gateways integration.
- Used Cloudinary so the admin can upload product images directly to the cloud from the website. Images are stored securely in the cloud ensuring scalability and easy access.
- Technologies used: MERN (MongoDB, Express.js, React.js, Node.js,) stack, Typescript, Redux Toolkit, Stripe.

Project- Blog website

- I developed a dynamic and user-friendly blog website using a combination of front-end and back-end technologies.
- The website features responsive design, allowing for seamless navigation across devices. Utilizing [MERN]stack, I implemented features such as user authentication, content management, and interactive commenting systems.
- Through meticulous attention to detail and usability testing, I ensured an optimal user experience. This project showcases my proficiency in web development and my ability to create engaging online platforms
- MERN (MongoDB, Express.js, React.js, Node.js) stack.
